DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is responsive to the Amendment filed on April 26, 2004. The Applicant has amended claims 15, 18, and 30. Pending claims are 1-5, 7-13, 15, 18, and 21-44. However, a 35 USC 102 Rejection and a 35 USC 103 Rejection are presented for the following reasons of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 15, 18, and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Hull et al., U.S. Pat. No. 6,265,104 B1.

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application.

Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Rejection of claims 15, 18, and 26 drawn to a method of making a metal-air battery.

Hull et al., teach a method of making a metal-air battery as described in the previous Office Action of February 25, 2004.

Thus, the claims are anticipated.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-5, 7-13, 15, 18, 21-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hull et al., U.S. Pat. No. 6,265,104 B1, in view of Cheiky, U.S. Pat. No. 5,716,726.

Rejection of claims 1-5, 7-13, 21-25, and 27-44 drawn to a battery system and a battery.

Hull et al., teach a battery system as described in the previous Office Action of February 25, 2004.

Hull et al., do not teach a battery system including a casing to receive one or more batteries and to be used with an electronic device.

Cheiky teaches a battery system including a casing to receive one or more batteries (col. 5, lines 43-47) and to be used with an electronic device (col. 1, lines 21-32).

Thus, it would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to insert the teachings of Cheiky into the teachings of Hull et al., because Cheiky teaches a metal air battery system which has a certain number of battery cells, depending on the application of the electronic device.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 4/26/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The Applicant argues that the battery system includes a casing configured to receive one or more batteries and to be used with an electronic device.

However, a 103 Rejection is presented above to show that a battery casing configured to receive one or more batteries is well known in the art.

Applicant argues that the battery has a rectangular cross section.

However, since various embodiments of prismatic cells exist, prismatic can have a rectangular or a triangular cross section. Further, there is no criticality to the shape of the battery can, and the shape of the battery would be dictated by the structure in which the battery is employed.
